Morning John,

Here are my inspection reports on the trailers that I have done to date. I have a question about Demo due to safety. There are kids everywhere in the park and the trailers that have come down so far have all been in very poor condition (large holes in the floors, collapsed floors and ceilings from water leakage, broken windows and glass holes in the wall to the outside. I had to be very careful getting the inspections and samples completed. Would these type of conditions warrant a tear down without notice due to health and safety?

We are doing the 10 day notice today. I'm meeting with the Contractor and park Manager this morning to get the rest of your questions answered.

If there is anything else you can think of, or any suggestions or observations that I have over looked? If so, please call or let me know.

Thanks
